Dear Parents,

We have recently discussed the importance of developing play and enriching the children's vocabulary. To develop this, staff will work with the children, observing play and carrying out more in depth discussions. This process will inform our End of Year assessments focusing on the prime areas (Physical development, Communication & Language and Personal, Social and Emotional development). Therefore, due to the time restraints, we will change your child's book weekly and your child will be heard read on a fortnightly basis. It is vital that you continue to keep up the marvellous work you are doing at home, by hearing your child read, practising any tricky words or sounds and asking them lots of questions about the story and what is happening.

We thank you for your continued support.
