We talk with parents to plan specific provision well in advance of their child starting at our school.

The kinds of SEND that are provided for:
Our school currently provides provision for a range of needs, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Communication and interaction, for example, Autism Spectrum Condition (ASC), speech and language difficulties • Cognition and learning, for example, learning difficulties, dyslexia, dyscalculia • Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, for example, Attachment Disorder, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD), • Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments

Identifying pupils with SEN and assessing their needs

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and EYFS/Key Stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- Widens the attainment gap.

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social needs. Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEND.

If a pupil is identified as needing support, the class teacher will speak to parents. The pupil will continue to be carefully monitored and some school-based assessments to determine if there are any potential specific learning or developmental barriers may be completed. Whilst these assessments are being undertaken, the pupil may be added to the monitoring section of the school's SEND register. If it is determined that the pupil requires additional support beyond Quality First Teaching, they will be placed on the school's SEND register. Pupils with this level of need will have personalized short-term targets in the form of a Learning Plan. This would be reviewed regularly and shared with parents / carers. A small number of pupils have significant difficulties or lifelong needs that cannot reasonably be met within the normal SEND provision available; these pupils may need an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP).

Consulting and involving pupils and parents

We continually monitor our pupils with SEND through pupil interviews, collecting data, talking to you and your child's teachers and teaching assistants.

All pupils have a voice about their learning. They are aware of their personalized targets. Parents are kept up to date with their child's progress through progress reports, parent's evenings, reviews, and reports at the end of each term. In cases where more frequent regular contact with parents/carers is necessary, this will be arranged based on the individual pupil's needs.

If an assessment or referral indicates that a pupil has additional learning needs, the parents and the pupil will always be consulted with regards to future provision. Parents are invited to attend any meetings with external agencies regarding their child and are kept up to date and consulted on any points of action drawn up in regards to the provision for their child.

We work with the Early Help teams to organize Team and the Family meeting and drop in sessions on a regular basis to support parents with specific identified concerns they may have. We work with the School Nursing Team regarding any medical concerns parents may have.

Remember at any stage you can contact us to discuss your child's progress.

Assessing and reviewing pupils' progress towards outcomes

Teaching pupils with SEND is a whole school response. All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required.

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review. We will monitor the progress of all pupils in order to aid the early identification of pupils with SEND. Regular monitoring of those pupils with SEND by their teachers will help to ensure that they are able to reach their personalized learning targets.

The teacher will work with the SENDCO to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. This will draw on:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil
- Their previous progress and attainment and behaviour
- The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
- The views and experience of parents
- The pupil's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant.

Every pupil with SEND will have a child-centred, personalized learning plan which is reviewed regularly. Clear targets are set and these will be used to track progress over the year. This is shared with parents.

Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We are committed to ensuring that parents have confidence in the arrangements for children on entry to our school, year to year progression and at the point of exit and transition to the next school. Staff will discuss these arrangements with parents and agree the information that should be passed to the next phase of education.

We work in partnership with other local settings to ensure that a smooth and successful transition process takes place either at the end of a phase or as start of a mid-year transfer. When moving classes in school; information will be passed on to the new class teacher and a planning meeting will take place with the new teacher to discuss a child's strengths and needs and importantly, the sort of activities and approaches that have been successful.

For children entering the school, the SENDCO at Parley First School will contact the SENDCO from their current setting for an update on the child's needs and current strategies and provision that has been put in place. If appropriate, a discussion will take place with external agencies.

We will aim to provide a transition session led by our SENDCO prior to children starting school and the same will happen as children transition to Middle Schools.

For children transferring to another school, the SENDCO will aim to contact the SENDCO to pass on relevant information. Their records will all be passed on to their new school once the pupil has arrived.

Preparing young people for the next stage in their life is essential. We offer opportunities both in our curriculum and in our extra-curricular activities and trips to prepare all our pupils for this next stage.

We run a range of after school clubs each day with a focus on developing independence, communication and team work as well as self-regulation.

Helping children to become increasingly independent is of utmost importance and we aim to provide opportunities for pupils to develop their independence skills throughout their time with us. Achieving a balance of support, guidance and pupils working independently is something we strive for with all children.

Our approach to teaching pupils with SEND

“Excellent teaching is the bedrock of strong mainstream provision and is especially important for children with SEND”

Our focus is on quality first teaching that allows all pupils to be effective learners. We aim to ensure that all teachers have the skills, knowledge and confidence to deliver excellent, inclusive lessons. Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class. High quality teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEND. This will be differentiated for individual pupils.

We may also provide the following interventions:

- Handwriting and fine motor support
- Gross motor movement support
- Rapid reading
- Daily reading
- Phonological Awareness support
- Group and individual speech therapy
- Emotional support
- Friendship groups
- Individual catch up teaching
- Individual Tutoring
- Sensory circuits and individual sensory support

Adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment

We adopt an inclusive classroom approach. This concept is to enable all pupils to access the information they need for learning with minimal disruption or additional overloading of information. All classrooms are well organized and clear of clutter. Displays around the room support learning.

We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:

- Differentiating our curriculum to ensure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, 1:1 work, teaching style, content of the lesson, etc.
- Adapting our resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, hearing aid microphones etc.
- Modifying our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.

Additional support for learning

We have a Specialist Teacher who leads the resource provision alongside five Specialist Teaching Assistants. In addition to this team we also have a Speech and Language Therapist, Occupational Therapist and Play Therapist.

We have teaching assistants to support pupils with SEND. The teaching assistants are trained to deliver interventions and will support individuals or groups of children in class.

Within school, we have a Well Being lead and two ELSAs (Emotional Literacy Support Assistants) who can work with pupils who are experiencing social or emotional problems.

Our SENDCO has completed the National Award for SEND Coordination.

Our staff receive regular training and development linked to supporting our children with SEND. Training may be delivered on a whole school basis, or it may be offered to specific staff linked to the needs of the pupils they are working with.

We work with the following agencies to provide support for pupils with SEND:

- Educational Psychologist
- Speech and Language Therapy Services
- Specialist Teachers
- Community Pediatrician
- Physiotherapist
- Occupational Therapist
- Children Adolescents Mental Health Support (CAMHS)
- Hearing and Vision Support Service
- Outreach Team (TADSS)
- Dorset Locality Early Help Team

Evaluating the effectiveness of SEND provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEND by:

Reviewing pupils' individual progress towards their individual targets each term

Reviewing the impact of interventions.

Using pupil one-page profiles to gather their views about their support.

Monitoring of classroom practice by the SENDCO, Senior Leadership Team and the Trust SEND and Inclusion Director

Analysis of pupil tracking data and test results

Meetings of parents and staff, both formal and informal, to review progress and targets, revise provision and celebrate success

Holding Progress Reviews for pupils with EHC plans.

In order to make consistent continuous progress in relation to SEND provision, the school encourages feedback from staff, parents and pupils throughout the year.

Enabling pupils with SEND to engage in activities available to those in the school who do not have SEND

We are an inclusive school community and we work in partnership with all stake holders to ensure that all pupils have equitable opportunities as part of their school experience.

All of our extra-curricular activities and school visits are available to all our pupils, including our before-and after-school clubs. No pupil is ever excluded from taking part in activities because of their SEN or disability. All pupils are encouraged to go on residential trips when they are offered. Risk assessments are carried out for school visits including residential trips and reasonable adjustments will be made where required.

Health and safety audits are conducted to ensure that the school provides a safe environment for all pupils. We are committed to the principle of reasonable adjustment and continuously make changes and adjustments in order to remove any barrier pupils might face due to their needs.

Support for improving emotional and social development

As well as making good progress academically it is important to us that all our pupils are developing emotionally. We may provide support for pupils to improve their emotional and social development in the following ways:

- ELSA
- social skills groups
- Lego Therapy
- Food explorers
- Play Therapy
- Forest School
- Thrive

Whatever problem your child may encounter; we will be sure to work closely with you in order to improve the situation.

Complaints about SEND provision

It is in everyone's interests for concerns /complaints to be resolved as quickly as possible. Complaints about SEND provision in our school should be made by the below steps.

- Talk to the class teacher - The class teacher deals with the complaint initially. For a problem that might need time to explore fully, parents should make an appointment. This will allow the class teacher time to consult with the SENDCO if appropriate. The class teacher or the parent may wish to ask the SENDCO to attend this meeting.
- If there is no further resolution, the complaint is then dealt with by a member of the Senior Leadership Team.
- If at this stage, there is still no resolution, then the complainant should use the school's complaints policy. Complaints about SEND provision in our school should be made to the SENDCO in the first instance. They will then be referred to the school's complaints policy.
